THE LOCAL TAX ON PATENT AGENTS .- The question whether the district government possesses the power to impose a tax on patent agents and agents transacting business with the general government, came up this morning before the Senate district committee, and was argued by Col. Wm. A. Cook, for the district government, and Mr. J. S. Brown, for the consider the matter.

THE COMMITTEE investigating Secretary Robeson and his management of the Navy Department has begun work in carnest, and to-day held a session of several hours. So far, all the witnesses call by the prosecution completely exhonorated the Secretary, and the impression is rapidly gaining that no case whatever can be made against him, and that the charges of the Sun will prove entirely groundless. The investi-gation is likely to continue, however, for some time .- Wash. Cor. Bost. Advertiser.

TREASURER SPINNER has decided that fractional currency not being a legal-tender for the payment of private debts, national banks, not designated as depositaries, are required by law to receive it in any amounts; nor are national bank depositaries required to receive it, except when presented in payment of dues to the United States other than customs, or for redemption. National bank depositaries are required to receive fractional currency not defaced or mutilated in payment of all public dues less than five dollars except customs.

PASSAGE OF THE DEPOT BILL.-The House to-day, by a vote of 115 ayes to 55 nays, suspended the rules and passed the bill granting the lot at the corner of 6th and B streets to the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company for a passenger depot site. The opponents of the bill, who have been fillibustering for the past week to prevent its passage, to-day refused to vote when their names were called, in the hope of preventing a quorum voting, but the majority against them was too heavy, and after the roll call they all voted in the negative, hoping to defeat the necessary two-thirds vote to saspend the rules. They were unsuccessful, nowever, and the bill was passed. BILL FOR A NEW BRIDGE ACROSS THE EASTERN BRANCH .- Gen. AN INTERESTING BOUNTY CASE DECIDED .-A verdict was rendered at Detroit, on the 20th ultimo in the United States Circuit Court against Robinson & Brooks, soldiers claim agents in that city, in favor of the United States for $136.80. The parties are the innocent victims of a forger named John Voorhees, who has run his race and is now in the state prison, which may be a slight satisfaction to the sufferers. It seems that the claim of one Rudelph Beard or bear that the claim of one Rudolph Besard for bounty and back pay was put into the hands of Robinson & Brooks for collection in 1863. The papers were apparently all correct, and upon them Massrs. Robinson & Brooks collected the money from the government, giving the usual receipt therefor. They transmitted the money to a lawyer who had sent them the claim for collection, to be turned over by him to his client, Mr. Besard. It subsequently turned out not only that he did not pay over the money to Besard. but that the papers upon which the claim was collected were forged. Besard subsequently presented his real claim, but the government had the receipt of Messrs. Robinson & Brooks therefor, and accordingly brought this action against them to recover back the money paid to them on the fraudulent papers They were held by the court to be legally liable for the amount paid on them by the government, and the jury therefore gave a verdict against them. The Senate District Committee held a meeting this morning and continued the hearing of the arguments of the friends and opponents of bill introduced by Senator Spencer, on the 29th of February last, entitled "A bill amendatory of the act entitled 'An act to provide a government for the District of Columbia," which provides for the election of members of the Legislative Council, the abolition of the Board of Public Works, the creation of a Board of Improvement, &c. provement, &c.

A. W. Green read an argument in favor of the bill, from which it appears that he desires a change in the organic act mainly because he was defeated for the House of Delegates in the 21st district last fall. ARGUMENT OF COL. DONN PIATT AGAINST

Col. Donn Piatt said he had been requested by several distinguished officers of the District government to present his views to the commit tee as against any amendment of the organic act. As yet he had heard nothing from the friends of the new bill which was worthy of an answer. He had hoped that to-day Mr. Green would have presented something like an argument in favor of the proposed change, but he had only presented reasons why the organic act should remain intact. Mr. Ordway had said that five men could control the mass of voters of the District and carry elections as they pleased. This state of affairs would be if the proposed amendment to the organic act is made. There can be no doubt that a deplorable state of things exists in Washington, bu other large cities are worse off than Washington. New York and other cities are immense wells of corruption, and Washington does not stand alone. The whole evil originates in the general meaning of the words: "The right to vote." Now veting is not a right, but a privilege. The great cities of Europe are centers of intelligence and governmen's, because intelligence there is mainly confined to large cities. This is not the case in the United States, where education is diffused all over the country, and where it is not INFINITELY WORSE diffused all over the country, and where it is no expected that one city is to be a great political center. The friends of this new bill affect to be terribly outraged because they do not vote enough; but if any change is to be made in the organic act it would be much wiser and much belter to go a step further in the other direction, and have the members of the bouse of delegates sppointed as well as the members of the coun-

A GREAT DEAL OF BUMBUG in this voting business. A man has as much right to vote at a meeting of bank directors beause he sleeps on the steps of the institution as a man who votes to control property when he owns none himself. And yet property is controlled and the people's money voted away in hundreds of cases for instance in New York Here a man's aspirations are exceedingly limited He can't be a Congressman, and he can hold only some pitiful little corporation flice; and yet all this row is raised becaus forsooth somebody's "privileges" are curtailed. The capital of the United States was removed from Philadelphia to Washington because of the meb and local influences. When that body came here it was not the intention to allow the people here to vote, but to govern the city by a

Mr. Green wanted to know of Col. Platt if it is not as laudable in a man to desire to protect his home and his interests as to aspire to high political honors. Col. Piatt said Mr. Green's query reminded

THE OLD CONDUNDRUM "what will three pounds of beef cost at ten cent-per pound, provided half is lean and half fat." He then went on to say that he did not feel that his rights as a citizen had been curtailed any more than when he resided in Cincinnati. Th friends of the bill had lugged in a lot of affidavits showing a most deplorable condition of affairs; and by the way, Mr. Ordway had not given him he originals of

THOSE APPIDAVITS which he promised to do Mr. Ordway said be had sent copies to him by Col. Piatt said there was something singular bout these original affidavits; Mr. Ordway had promised to let him examine them, and as yes and not done so.

Mr. Ordway said they were in the hands of the printers, and that he would produce them. Col. Platt said he had no doubt Mr. Ordway could get 4,000 affidavits, since it could be proved that the votes of a number of men were bought at the last election for $1.50. The same parties would coubtless make any quantity of Mr. Ordway denied the instruction of Col.

Piatt, and asserted that the affidavits were bone Col. Piatt resumed, by saving that he had ome affidavits which he would present as an offset to Mr. Ordway's. Mr. Ordway's affidavits showed a bad state of affairs, and only strengthened his (Col. Piatt's) argument in favor of the appointment of the members of the House of THE NEW GOVERNMENT has been I eset by obstacles from the beginning. F.rst came the injunction and then the election -a dirty piece of business in any event. Ther came the Congressional investigation. It had had every possible difficulty to surmount, and yet, notwithstanding the obstructionists, had done more work and done it cheaper than it could have been done in any other city. It is now proposed to turn out the men who earnest-ly and he nestly did this work, but a far better ourse would be to do away with elections entirely, and go back to the original intention of the fathers, and have the capital governed by a commission. We are having a great row now in this District all about nothing. We have repub-lican clubs and democratic clubs, and we hold political meetings, and we send delegates to the Philadelphia convention. The whole thing is a farce—a deplorable mockery, and we want to do away with it entirely. I will venture to say that I can bring ten taxpayers here who are w ling to have the members of the house of delegates appointed, to every one brought here by Mr. Ordway, who is in favor of their election. This fight seems to me to be in the interest of contractors who have not made as much money as they expected. Mr. LeBarnes .- "No contractor has asked for any change in the organic act, nor is any contractor represented on our side of the ques-Col. Piatt said the bulk of property here be longs to the general government and it is proposed to turn it over to the District authorities.

The proposition is absurd. Mr. Ordway. "Our bill proposes the appoint ment of three members of the Board of Im provement. Is not this a sufficient protection? Col. Piatt,-"No, sir; it is no protection at all. I submit my affidavits." Mr. Green said it would have pleased the friends of the new bill better had some gentle-man appeared in behalf of the District authorities who supports the present federal adminis tration. COL. WM. A. COOK "aid the District government does not propose to trouble the committee much in this matter. He is the attorney for the corporation, and if he ap-pears at all it will be as the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate appears—apart from his official position. The District government takes the ground that the committee is amply qualified to dispose of the whole matter in such a way that the in-terest of the people of the District will be sub-served and protected.

The committee then adjourned. THE AFFIDAVITS (fourteen in number) presented by Col. Piatt charges Ordway and his followers with bribery at the late election, the packing of political meetings, and generally with conduct similar to that alleged against the District authorities in the affidavits presented by Mr. Ordway when he was before the Senate committee the other day.

BALTIMORE AND POTOMAC RAILEOAD.—The track-layers expected to cross Charles' Branch at the Mill yesterday. The bridge at this point is one of the longest and most substantial in the county, and has been completed some time. Hence they will rapidly carry the road on across Southwest Branch, and after getting out of that section will come upon the level country, which continues from the vicinity of the Rosary Church to Charles and for some distance through that county. After striking this ridge we apprehend they will lose little time in working to the gang from Pope's Creek, which is pushing forward also as rapidly as possible. The large water tank at the depot at this place contained a quantity of water when we were out there on Wednesday, but it is not completed yet. The hands were then engaged in grading at the same point for the turn-table and double track which we presume will be laid at an early day. Col. Hill's force is busily engaged preparing the timbers for the bridge he contemplates erecting across the Collington, near its confluence with the Western Branch, which will place our village within at least one-half of the distance from the depot that it is now around by Coale's.— BALTIMORE AND POTOMAC BAILBOAD .- The the depot that it is now around by Coale's .- Prince Georgian, March 29th.

NEW YORK, April 1 .- A special from Matamoras of the 31st of March says: Among in-numerable rumors of war it is difficult to get to the truth. Quiroga repeats his report of Rocha's defeat by martinez and Donato Guerra, Rocha's deteal by Martinez and Donato Guerra, but without giving the details. The report of Rocha's capture is not confirmed. These reports are doubtless created to counteract the effect of Rocha's recent victory at Zacatecas. The revolutionists are straining every nerve to raise money, without which their cause will son be lost. They are levying contributions everywhere and compelling foreigners and everywhere and compelling foreigners and natives alike to pay. The American consul and other American merchants in Monterey refused, when their stores were entered and the goods taken by the rebels. They sent a copy of in-strictions received from Washington not to contribute towards the support of the revolu-tion, and it was treated with contempt. Commiss oners have arrived to represent mat-ters to General McCook and ask for protection, but of course he is powerless. The commissioners report general demoraliza-tion among the revolutionists—Their soldiers are all forced into service. They have no volunteers. The mass of the people are opposed to the revolution. Other leaders, however are de-termined to starve rather than to be taken. They will declare are public in the Sierra Madre, call on fillibustering Americans, and ask for annexation to the United States. They have already established recruiting offices in Texas. Small bands are fighting in Tamaulipas with various successes, but their movements there are of no importance, and the Juarez officers are awaiting events. The revolutionists again promise an early attack on Matamoras. The bonded goods recently er are safe in Monterey, and their removal is prohibited. The clearing of vessels from American to Mexican ports held by the revolutionists, causes exultation among the latter, although it is thought to be useless now, because the river is low and navigation impos-

General Sherman the Guest of the Khedive New York, April 1 .- A special from Cain Fgypt, dated March 31st, says: "General Sherman was splendidly entertained by the Khedive. A state breakfast was given in his honor. He was invited to reviews, and a special train was provided for himself and suite. The palace was endered him for his residence, but he declined it. He leaves Tuesday for Constantinople, where be will be the guest of the Sultan."

The Connecticut Election

HARTFORD, CONN., April 1, noon.-Voting is proceeding very quietly in this city. There is the usual excitement. At 12 o'clock the republicans were considerably ahead, ac-cording to the check tests of their committees. The democrats are not working with half their usual zeal, even in strong democratic wards. The appearances are that the republicans will carry the majority of the city government, and they feel confident of electing their mayor. No returns from other towns have been received. From Europe To-day THIERS "GOES BACK" ON PARIS.

Advertiser says: - A singular case of depravity in a man of good business standing has recently come to light. Dr. J. R. Dillingham, the wellknown dentist of this city, has just confessed himself guilty of numerous thefts charged against him by absconding for parts unknown, and a strange story of his misdemeanors is now before the public. As far as is known, the first of his peculations was from Messrs. Codman & Shurtleff, on Tremont street, from whom he stole at various times some $3,000 worth of gold plate. Upon being accused of this theft he acknowledged it, and gave his note for six months for the value of the plate. When this note became due he refesed to pay it, and threatened to sue Messrs. Codman & Shurtleff for compounding the felony. This affair was kept quiet, and Dillingham's next operation was to sell a portion of his business for $3,000 to a man named Wood. The property thus conveyed proved not to have belonged to Dil ingham; the business was not what he had represented it, and Wood sued him to recover $1,500. He managed to procure bail for $2,000, and was quiet for a time until his father died, about three months since, and it was then found out that the Doctor had forged checks and notes to the amount of $6,000. This was the last of his knaveries, and the report is that he is on his way to South America, though some insist that he has not yet left the city. On two occasions he has assigned his interest in his father's estate, making a profit of $1,000 each
